The Edison is the first of its kind in downtown Calgary. As our city's businesses begin to change and diversify, so must the buildings that house them. The Edison deviates from the traditional office tower as a warm, relaxed, and welcoming location where individuals of any generation feel comfortable and enjoy coming to every day. The modern design feels different than any other building in the city. Tenants seeking creative, energizing work places will be at home at The Edison.

The Edison's premium amenities include a club quality fitness facility, conference space, and an outdoor patio. In the conference centre you will find formal and informal spaces, as well as a pool table, serving bar and soft seating. On the main floor we will partner with local, artisanal, and creative chefs to provide sustainable, local and unique food offerings.

150 – 9th Avenue was purchased in 2015 and the Aspen head office moved to the building in November 2015.

Aspen's culture follows the "work hard, play hard" model, and seeks to promote that to tenants by providing opportunities to mix fun into the everyday work environment. We are entrepreneurial, fleet-footed, boutique, and non-bureaucratic. We maintain excellent relationships with our employees, tenants, advisors, agents, lenders, consultants and investment partners.

Our entrepreneurial and local thinking has made us who we are. While the offerings we bring to The Edison are new to the market, our award-winning property management team promises to deliver them with exceptional service and highly professional standards.
